Tempus Resources Database

By creating this database we wish to increase public awareness of the results of Tempus projects and make them more employable both in Serbia and beyond. The following types of electronic documents created in the projects are included in this database:

- Studies and analyses;
- Reports produced after study visits and training programs;
- Thorough description of reformed and new study programs and trainings;
- Handbooks and documents pertaining to developed study programs and trainings;
- Textbooks financed by the projects, or abstracts of publications developed in the projects;
- Other similar documents and publications that may be of use;

Your suggestions for the improvement of this resources database are more than welcome. The database was created in August 2010 and it is continually being updated with new materials that we receive from the participants in Tempus projects.
