28-05-2010 - Dobrica Milovanovic: The economic crisis highlights the role of local authorities in economic revival

28.05.2010. Engaging local authorities as equal partners of governments, delegating resource management to local level, revising government financing to support local public investment – these should be some of the key responses to the economic crisis, Congress member Dobrica Milovanovic (Serbia) stressed at the Conference on the local response to the global crisis, in Skopje on 28 May. Speaking on behalf of acting President Ian Micallef, he called for greater local innovation and inter-municipal co-operation in the face of the crisis, to use the economies of scale, and pointed to the need for a coordinated European approach to control lending practices and improve debt management.
